

PLANNING AND IMPLEMENTATION FOR DEAN'S TEAMS

IT'S A NEW DAY!

Not all academic leaders or faculty members may be accustomed to administering practical day-to-day implementation of initiatives related to diversity, equity and inclusion or pandemic response. However, the nature, pace and scope of classroom change and the complexity of modern higher education dictate that change management become part of the campus lexicon. Workshops at your venue, or a Southern California Retreat Center, are custom-designed to build capacity to systematically achieve student-driven goals in the face of large-scale change. We help organizations plan and implement initiatives through disruption in ways that build-not-destroy a culture of trust, community and effectiveness.
